If ever there is a time to party, it's New Year's. Once the family-centric holidays are over, it's time to dress to the nines and get ready to boogie as the clock ticks down.

Your No. 1 spot for an outfit (or two!) is Old Navy, where you can get some of the most stylish New Year's Eve options to ring in the new year and make good on that resolution to save some extra money. Ciara Strickland at The New Mixx noted that "putting these pieces together gives you a full New Year's Eve ready look that can land right at or just above the 100 dollar mark depending on current promotions. They are versatile, comfortable and timeless enough to wear well into 2025."

With that in mind, this is best $120 you can spend at Old Navy before New Year's.

Leggings

- Price: $9.20 (regularly $22.99)

It might be cold outside, but heating up inside, which is why you'll want a pair of high-waisted fleece-lined ankle leggings from Old Navy, according to Cheryl Ann Wadlington, founder of Evoluer Image Consultants and The Evoluer House.

Wadlington shared that this pair of fleece-lined fashion leggings are “super warm, durable, and they flatter the figure.” They come in black, dark sepia, ancient forest and many other colors.

Jeans

- Price: $34.99 (regularly $49.99)

Dressing down is the new dressing up, so throw on a pair of '90s straight built-in flex jeans from Old Navy to get ready for the clock to strike midnight.

“A relaxed denim silhouette is the easiest way to update your outfit going into the new year,” Strickland said. “These jeans have the right amount of structure while still being comfortable for nights out, travel, or casual gatherings. They balance perfectly with a quarter zip or a simple fitted top.”

Denim Jacket

- Price: $35.99 (regularly $44.99)

Your pants aren't the only thing from Old Navy that looks good in denim. Why not complete the outfit with a classic jean jacket?

“A girl's got to have a classic trucker style blue jean jacket, a versatile wardrobe staple that truly goes with everything, functioning as an excellent layering piece for almost any outfit across all seasons,” Wadlington said.

Peacoat

- Price: $40.00 (regularly $99.99)

The slim fit double-breasted peacoat is currently 60% off its normal $100 price tag and the perfect thing to stay cozy in during New Year's Eve.

“This coat instantly elevates anything you pair it with,” Strickland said. “The brushed finish gives it a clean, modern look and the fit works for both casual and more dressed up outfits. It is an easy way to stay warm for New Year's Eve without sacrificing style, and it feels much more expensive than it is.”
